

FACTS

WHAT DOES BANK OF THE SIERRA DO WITH YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

Why?

Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.

What?

The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include:

- Social Security number and income
- Account balances and payment history
- Transaction history and account transactions

When you are no longer our customer, we continue to share your information as described in this notice.

How?

All financial companies need to share customers' personal information to run their everyday business. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their customers' personal information; the reasons Bank of the Sierra chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.

Reasons we can share your personal information	Does Bank of the Sierra share?	Can you limit this sharing?
For our everyday business purposes— such as to process your transactions, maintain your account(s), respond to court orders and legal investigations, or report to credit bureaus	Yes	No
For our marketing purposes— to offer our products and services to you	Yes	No
For joint marketing with other financial companies	No	We don't share
For our affiliates' everyday business purposes— information about your transactions and experiences	No	We don't share
For our affiliates' everyday business purposes— information about your creditworthiness	No	We don't share
For nonaffiliates to market to you	No	We don't share

Questions?

Call 888-454-2265 or visit www.bankofthesierra.com/privacy

BANK OF THE SIERRA
KEEP CLIMBING

Who we are

Who is providing this notice?

BANK OF THE SIERRA

What we do

How does Bank of the Sierra protect my personal information?

To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings.

How does Bank of the Sierra collect my personal information?

We collect your personal information, for example, when you:

- Open an account or deposit money
- Pay your bills or apply for a loan
- Use your debit card

We also collect your personal information from others, such as credit bureaus, affiliates, or other companies.

Why can't I limit all sharing?

Federal law gives you the right to limit only

- Sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes—information about your creditworthiness
- Affiliates from using your information to market to you
- Sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you

State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing.

Definitions

Affiliates

Companies related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and nonfinancial companies.

- Bank of the Sierra does not share with our affiliates

Nonaffiliates

Companies not related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and nonfinancial companies.

- Bank of the Sierra does not share with nonaffiliates so they can market to you

Joint marketing

A formal agreement between nonaffiliated financial companies that together market financial products or services to you.

- Bank of the Sierra does not jointly market

Other Important Information

In compliance with the California Financial Privacy Act and the California Consumer Privacy Act, the Bank does not collect or share information with other companies unless stated or allowed by law. The Bank will only share what is required or within the limits of the law. For more information about the Bank's information sharing practices and how to exercise your rights under these acts, please visit bankofthesierra.com/learn/resources/disclosures/#privacy.

BANK OF THE SIERRA
KEEP CLIMBING